Express of concern on ‘Antirecoverin autoantibodies in the patient with non-small cell lung cancer but without cancer-associated retinopathy’

The Editors of Lung Cancer wish to alert readers of the journal to potential errors in Fig. 1A of the above-referenced article.

A reader of the journal contacted the Editors and expressed concern about irregularities pertaining to the figure. The authors have confirmed that the figure was prepared by photographing the blots as scanning equipment was not available within their institution. The authors believe that lines 3 and 7 may have been duplicated by accident during the preparation process. The authors report that the project was closed in 2004 and the original data pertaining to this article has now been destroyed.
